Edith was admitted to the post office. She had ordered the horse to be sent at once. She felt confident that it would arrive in time. She was planning to travel to Paris for a week's vacation. She had booked a room at the Ritz Hotel and had arranged for a car to pick her up at the airport. She was looking forward to a luxurious stay in the French capital. She had decided to stay at the Ritz because it was one of the most famous hotels in the world. She had heard that the service was excellent and that the rooms were spacious and comfortable. She was also looking forward to trying some of the famous French cuisine. She had heard that the Ritz had a Michelin-starred restaurant. She had booked a table for dinner on her first night there. She was excited to try the food. She had heard that the Ritz was located near many of the famous sights in Paris. She had a list of places she wanted to visit, including the Louvre, Notre-Dame, and the Eiffel Tower. She was looking forward to exploring the city and experiencing all that it had to offer. She had planned her itinerary carefully, making sure to allow enough time for each activity. She was sure that she would have a wonderful time in Paris. She had booked a car to take her from the airport to the hotel. She was looking forward to her vacation.